

SAN DIEGO COUNTY WOMEN'S HALL OF FAME NOMINATION APPLICATION

GENERAL INFORMATION

There are 4 co-hosts of the San Diego County Women's Hall of Fame. They are: Women's History Museum and Educational Center, San Diego County Commission on the Status of Women, Women's Studies Department, San Diego State University and The Women's Center, University of California, San Diego.

The four Co-Hosts of the San Diego County Women's Hall of Fame respectfully request Nominations of women who have significantly contributed to the quality of life for women and have made outstanding volunteer contributions in San Diego County.

The purpose of the annual induction of five women into the Hall of Fame is to make women's actions and accomplishments visible in San Diego. The women honored every year will be remembered for their efforts in a Hall of Fame exhibit housed at the Women's History Museum and Educational Center. The annual induction ceremony is also a forum for coalition building between the four co-hosts and dozens of women's organizations representing the diverse populations of San Diego.

WE VALUE

Women trailblazers; women who have courage, are fearless, and dare do the right thing and are role models in the community.

Women who are creative, imaginative, visionaries, and dreamers.

Women who are professionally motivated by both personal and community advancement.

Women who are in politics for the benefit of the community and who value and support the advancement of others.

Women who have strength, perseverance, intelligence, critical thinking and analytical skills.

Women who are strategists, critical thinkers, and excellent communicators.

Women who support women's rights as human rights.

Community and coalition building, so that communities work together.

An individual's culture, ethnic heritage, and history—and the sharing of these with others.

Diversity in age, ethnicity, profession, etc.

Women who promote cultural competency and multi-cultural competency.

Women who support the right of women to choose their own identities.

Instructions: Completed Nomination Applications must be delivered, mailed, or emailed (no faxes, please). Only Nominations submitted on the Nomination Application will be accepted. Nominations to the Women's Hall of Fame may be submitted by a group or an individual; however, no individual may nominate herself. The Nominations Committee, comprised of representatives from the host organizations, will select the inductees. The Nomination Application is the primary tool for determining an honoree for the San Diego County Women's Hall of Fame and must be completed in its entirety. Please type or print legibly.

On the top right hand corner of every page, please include Nominee's last name and Nomination category. A Nomination Application and Supplemental Information should be completed for each nominee in each category nominated

PLEASE DO NOT EXCEED 1,000 WORDS IN LENGTH AND USE 12 POINT or equally readable TYPE.
